Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 2174

DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are vague and indefinite and do not recite essential elements to explain the invention:

In claim 1, means for determining “apparent affective state of the user” is vague in terms of apparent affective state, and also what and how this is determined is not given sufficient description.

Dependent claims 2-5 do not remedy the deficiency. Claim 4 attempts to describe how the determination is made, but “apparent affective state” is still vague.

Dependent claim 6 furthermore is vague in describing how “the apparent emotional state of the writer indicates that the text should be marked” Also, “the” writer lacks antecedent basis (the text could have been typed in and “the writer” therefore is not implicit).

Dependent claims 7-8 do not remedy the deficiency. Furthermore, claim 8 “apparent emotional state of the writer is questionable” is vague and “the writer” is again lacking antecedent basis.

Art Unit: 2174

Claim 9 is vague in “if the apparent emotional state of the writer indicates that the text should be marked” and in “determining the emotional state of the writer”. Note though that claims 10-12 do remedy “determining the emotional state of the writer” but still do not remedy “if the apparent emotional state of the writer indicates that the text should be marked”

Claims 13, 15, and 17 are vague in “if the apparent emotional state of the writer is questionable” and in “determining the emotional state of the writer”. Note though that claims 14, 16, and 18 do remedy “determining the emotional state of the writer” but still do not remedy “if the apparent emotional state of the writer is questionable”
